Foreword

The 1938 Staff has gathered together the following written and picture pages with much interest. In these are written the achievements and failures of the students of Cradock High School, their comradeship and sportsmanship. We have been through many trials and hardships together during our school life. Through continued effort and the unfailing encouragement of our teachers, we have carried on. And now that the light of victory is in view we are able to look back upon our accomplishments and the obstacles which we have encountered during the past 4 years and to hope, as we portray our school life in these pages, that they may serve as a precedent for future classes; a means by which they may correct their faults.
